BRITISH

Officers Dwell on the Morale of Their Troops in Somme Battle

STAFF GREATLY IMPROVED

Commanders Have Won Promotion By Achievements and Young Men Predominate—Since July Offensive Started 30,000 Prisoners and 650 Guns Have Been Taken

Copyright 1916 by the Associated Press.
British Front in France, Oct. 23. Via London.—More than three and one-half months of battle in Somme with the heaviest concentration of artillery, infantry and every type of war material and the most skillful and desperate fighting the world has ever known, has resulted in marked development of British fighting efficiency and of means for reducing the losses of the attackers. In the way of concrete achievements, the British have taken 30,000 prisoners, or a little less than 1,000 for each of the 21 villages captured, with an average population of about 300 souls. They have taken 125 guns, 109 trench mortars and trench guns and 429 machine guns. They have not lost a gun.

The task of the British was made especially difficult by the fact that they were confronted at the outset with a most powerful line of trench fortifications. Moreover every village was a fortress which had to be besieged and stormed. The British have driven back the Germans on a front of 11 miles, to a depth of four to eight miles. When spring comes peasants will plow and seed ground behind the lines which for two years had lain fallow under the storm of shells. In Fricourt and Mametz, villages taken on July 1, trees with their trunks torn and their foliage blasted by shells have bravely thrown out fresh shoots, while fresh crops of grass are hiding the shell craters in neighboring fields and carpeting the seamed earth trodden by the British in their early charges. Former citizens of captured villages are requesting that they be allowed to return to the ruins of their old homes.

The offensive has consisted of intervals of preparations and siege work after each big general attack, to prepare what is called a "jumping off" place for another general attack. Through July, owing to the heavy cost of taking the first line trenches, the British casualties probably were heavier than the Germans. Through August, when over a large part of the front, Germans were on their feet, the British losses were not less than 25 per cent higher than the British during the month of September, when the British gained most ground.

This contradiction of the previously accepted idea of a higher ratio of casualties on the side of the offensive, which is usually considered as necessarily at not less than two to one, is due, according to the British officers, the superior power of the British shell fire, the numbers of British aeroplanes, the increased skill of the British soldiers and the use of the tanks. The British staff does not place much reliance on these new contrivances, which aroused some world wide interest, but regarded them as an experiment which might fail altogether. They are only one of the inventions aiding the offensive against modern fortifications which will be used next spring when the British are fully prepared. Calculations as to the value of the tanks are hard to make, but, taking the average opinion of experts at the front, these new weapons have saved a loss of 20,000 men, or more than a full division in the reduction of strong points and machine gun positions.

Not in ground gained or prisoners or guns taken does opinion at the front lay most emphasis after nearly four months ceaseless fighting, every day bringing its lesson. Officers are always using the word morale, which means the spirit and team play an army puts into its work. It is the thing which at the end of the tenth round of a twenty-round fight when both pugilists are still standing up well to each other, indicates the winner. The British, after nearly two years of stalling, have been fighting week after week on soil taken from their foe. Thus the British morale has become the morale of attack. This offensive has been the school of war with death as tutor. As one staff officer said, "If we had July 1 to do over again, we should accomplish the same results with less loss."

By fighting the British new army learned to fight as Grant's army learned to fight at Shiloh and McClellan's on the peninsula. Before the grand offensive the British staff and commanders, those few professionals who were trained to direct the regular army, realized

GERMAN

Troops Aided by Bulgars Capture Rumanian Fort of Constanza

THREATEN TCHERNAVODA

Central Powers Cross Railway Running From Constanza to Danube River—Anglo-French Attack On Somme Repulsed By German, Troops Who Withdrew to New Positions

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
Berlin, Oct. 23, via London.—The Rumanian fort of Constanza has been captured by the Germans, the war office announced today.

Troops of the central powers have crossed the railway running between the Black sea port of Constanza and the river Danube at a point to the east of Murfatlar, the war office announcement says. The fort of Constanza was taken by German and Bulgarian troops.

On the left wing of Field Marshal von Mackensen's army, the state-mint adds, the Germans and their allies are approaching the Danube town of Tchernavoda.

Attacks launched by British and French forces against the German positions between Le Sars and Ran-court, in the Somme region were repulsed yesterday with sanguinary losses, says the official statement issued today by the German army headquarters. On the north bank of the Somme, the tremendous artillery battle was continued yesterday.

During the night the Germans withdrew their line of defense north of Chaumes, south of the river Somme, the German official statement adds, to a prepared position in the northern part of Chaumes wood.

Constanza was one of the principal objectives of Field Marshal von Mackensen in his campaign in Dobruja. It is of particular importance by reason of the fact that it is the eastern terminus of the only railroad between the Black sea and the Danube, which it crosses at Tchernavoda. Thence the railroad runs westward into Old Rumania.

Von Mackensen's new campaign in Dobruja was begun only last week, on Oct. 19, when an offensive along the entire line from the Black sea to the Danube was opened.

Constanza has been notably useful in offering a seaport and railway. The total repulse of the Russian forces from the western bank of the river Narayuvka in Galicia has been completed.

At Predeal pass on the Transylvanian front the statement adds, 560 Rumanians have been captured.

CAR SHORTAGE IS BLAMED FOR HIGH PRICES ON COAL.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
Pittsburgh, Oct. 23.—Bituminous coal reached $4.25 a ton at the mines here today, $2.25 a ton higher than the customary price and probably the highest it ever commanded. Sales agents of some of the more important companies said there was little available at this price as the mines generally operated on contracts which they were hard put to fill, owing to the car shortage. The railroads, they declared, could give them no more than a four hour supply of cars while manufacturing plants were operating full time and in some instances were working 24 hours. Some plants already have been compelled to close because of fuel shortage, but the larger companies have to the present been able to operate.

AMERICAN MISSION BOARD WILL OPEN SESSIONS IN TOLEDO.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
Toledo, Oct. 23.—Delegates began arriving today for the one hundred and seventh meeting of the American board of commissioners for foreign missions, which will begin here Tuesday and continue four days.

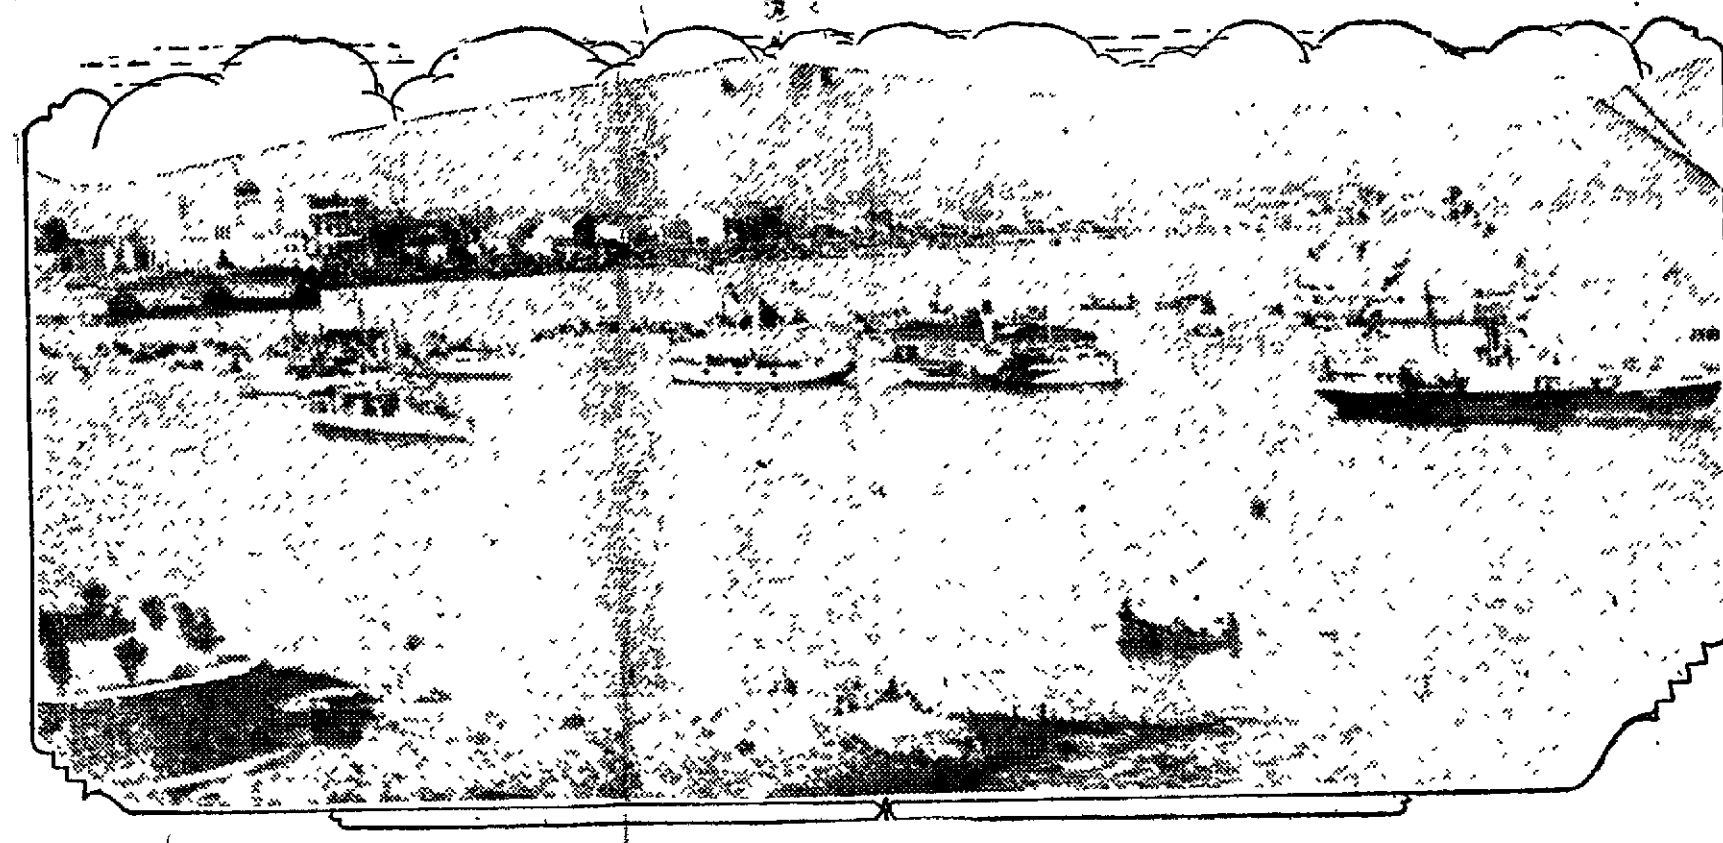

Missionaries from all parts of the world, some of them driven out of the European countries by the war, are among the delegates. Officers will be elected on Thursday.

One of the more important questions to come before the meeting will be the proposal of the American mission board to enter South America. This question will be brought up by President King of Oberlin college, who was a member of the Panama conference.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
Philadelphia, Oct. 23.—Members of the clinical congress of surgeons, composed of practitioners from all parts of the country, opened their seventh annual meeting here today. Distinguished visitors conducted clinics in the various hospitals here today and tonight the retiring president, Dr. Charles H. Mayo, of Minnesota, and Dr. Frederick Bates, of Boston, the president-elect, will deliver addresses at the meetings at which the latter will be inaugurated.

GREEK FLEET OFF ATHENS DARES MAKE NO MOVE AGAINST THE ALLIED FLEET

Greek fleet in Phaleron Bay; Athens in distance.

Greece's little fleet was powerless when the allies decided to take possession of the capital of the nation. Greek warships remained at rest as French marines landed on Greek soil and marched to the capital. The photo shows one good reason why no resistance was offered. The Greek fleet would be just a mouthful for the powerful allied fleet at Saloniki.

ASSASSIAN WAS FANATIC BERLIN PAPERS AGREE

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
Berlin, Oct. 22, via London, Oct. 23.—All accounts in the morning papers agree in calling the assassination of Premier Stuerghk of Austria, the deed of an irresponsible political fanatic, if not a neurotic, whose mind has given way under the strain of the war.

Dr. Friedrich Adler, the assassin, is described by acquaintances as a man of naturally fanatical temperament and one in whose family insanity runs—his sister has been in an insane asylum for years. These acquaintances say that Adler, has given the impression for months of one whose nerves were stretched to the breaking point and that his wild demeanor had caused much agitation in the Austrian socialist central committee of which he was secretary.

Young Adler led a small but vehement opposition to the policy of the party under his father's leadership. The Vorwaerts, which expresses the strongest disapproval of Dr. Adler's deed, declares that he was undoubtedly demented, when he committed the murder of Stuerghk in his senses could have expected favorable results from such an act.

Premier Stuerghk's last political act was to prohibit two big meetings called for today as demonstrations in favor of the convocation of parliament. He also designed, on the part of the government, to participate in a conference of parliamentary officials tomorrow to discuss the possibility of the resumption of sittings of the representatives. It is not thought that the premier's death will have any effect for or against convocation of parliament as he only acted as representative of the system in opposition thereto. There is no disposition to charge Adler's act to the parties which demanded the re-convening of the diet.

Count Stuerghk was dining at a hotel when the publisher attacked him. Three shots were fired, all of which took effect, the premier dying instantly.

Nothing is yet known in Vienna as to the motives for the assassination. Emperor Francis Joseph was informed immediately of the death of the premier and was affected deeply.

Count Stuerghk had been a prominent figure in Austrian political affairs for years. He was minister of public works in the cabinet formed in 1909, at the retirement of which, in October of 1911, he was asked to form a new ministry.

The count was born in 1859 at Graz, was educated at the University of Graz and entered the service of the state in 1881.

A POLITICAL CRANK.
[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
Vienna, Oct. 22, via London, Oct. 23.—Government circles here regard the killing of Premier Stuerghk as an act of a political crank which can in no wise influence the political situation or the course of the war. This statement was made to the correspondent of the Associated Press in high responsible quarters.

It is pointed out that the time which has elapsed since the murder has shown that Adler, the assassin, stands alone. His act is disavowed by the socialist member of the lower chamber of the reichsrath. Adler stated to the police that he shot Stuerghk because the premier opposed the convening of parliament. It is stated officially that Stuerghk had at no time done this and that he could not do it because the convening of parliament was a matter in the hands of the political parties.

The Austro-Hungarian press brands Adler as a vile, irresponsible criminal and without exception deplores the fact that the act of a crazy man should disturb the peace of the people. The city is quiet. The public while naturally greatly interested, regards the murder as a purely private crime.

TEXAS MAN IS PLACED ON TRIAL; KILLED OHIO MAN

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
Galveston, Tex., Oct. 23.—Venue-men, witnesses, and opposing counsel, crowded the district court here today for the opening of the trial of John Copeland, of Marshall, Texas, in connection with the killing of William Black, an anti-Catholic lecturer, in a hotel of that city, Feb. 3, 1915. The general public was not admitted.

George Tier and George Ryan, two other Marshall citizens, were indicted on the same charge as Copeland. Harry Winn and Frank O'Leary, who were among those first held in connection with the killing of Black but subsequently were cleared, will be witnesses for Copeland.

With a venire of 500 men summoned, selection of a jury was expected to require several days.

Black, whose home formerly was at Bellare, Ohio, was killed at Marshall a year ago last February. With Clarence F. Hall and a 17-year old girl, Sadie Black, whom he had just adopted in Pulaski county, Arkansas, Black went to Marshall to deliver lectures on the subject "Romanism, a Menace to Civilization."

On the first night Black directed all his talk against the confessional. He had advertised further to deliver an address against what he alleged to be an oath of the Knights of Columbus. In the afternoon of the second day, Feb. 3, four men, Copeland, Tier, Ryan and John Rogers, all said to be members of the Knights of Columbus, went to his room to ask him not to speak again. A scuffle ensued in which Black and Rogers were killed and Copeland badly wounded.

Testimony at the examining trials showed that both Black and Hall were armed when the visit took place. Hall appeared before the grand jury but was never indicted. The cases against Copeland, Ryan and Tier were brought here on a change of venue.

FUR VALUE IN NORTH AMERICA GREATLY INCREASED.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
Washington, Oct. 23.—Despite the fact that the fur bearing animals are steadily decreasing, the value of raw fur production in the United States and Canada has shown an enormous growth in recent years. A report issued by the department of agriculture today estimates the earnings of trappers of North America last year at not less than $200,000,000, or only about half the normal proportion.

The success of the industry is attributed largely to fur animal protective legislation. Thirty-nine states, in addition to Alaska, now have such legislation.

WHEAT PRICES JUMP 5 CENTS IN CHICAGO PIT

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
Chicago, Oct. 23.—Wheat prices made another sensational jump upward today of more than five cents a bushel. The December option reached $1.17-1/4 and May $1.17-3/4 as against respectively $1.10-1/2 to $1.10-3/4 and $1.10-1/2 to $1.10-3/4 at the finish on Saturday.

SMITHS FIGURE IN THIS SUIT IN SUPREME COURT

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
Columbus, Oct. 23.—The Smith family figured prominently in a suit filed in the supreme court today from Columbiana county. Daniel Smith is the plaintiff and through his attorney, Peter Smith he seeks a writ of prohibition to prevent Ben Smith, his employee, from collecting a judgment against him under the workmen's compensation law for the loss of his right eye. Ida Smith, clerk for Attorney Peter Smith paid the filing fee in the supreme court. The petition attacks the constitutionality of the workmen's compensation law. A similar question was raised in a Franklin county case also before the supreme court for consideration.

7 MILLION BALES OF COTTON USED; RECORDS BROKEN.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
Washington, Oct. 23.—Cotton manufacturers exceeded all previous records during the year which ended July 31, and the unprecedented activity is continuing. A preliminary report by the bureau today placed the total consumption of cotton in American mills at 7,278,329 bales. Of that quantity, 6,397,613 bales were lint and $80,916 bales linters. Use of linters showed an enormous increase over the previous year due to the manufacture into explosives. The increase was 469,071 bales or 113.9 per cent. Cotton used also increased 890,251 bales or 14.3 per cent. The number of cotton spindles active during the year was 32,805,883, an increase of 2.6 per cent over 1915.

Massachusetts retained its place as first cotton manufacturing state, using 1,462,888 bales, compared with 1,282,937 bales in 1915. North Carolina was second, using 1,067,288 bales, compared with 910,154 bales.

Two Large Freighters Are Missing and Only One Survivor Has Been Rescued—Three Bodies Recovered From Lake Sunday and Taken to Toledo—Crews Numbered 47

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
Cleveland, Oct. 23.—While Captain Walter Grashaw, sole survivor in a crew of 22 men of the steamer James B. Colgate, was battling for life in a hospital at Conneaut, O., today, following his rescue yesterday, marine circles were convinced that the steamer Merida, 42 hours overdue at Buffalo, had also been a victim of Friday night's storm on Lake Erie, which sank two other boats in addition to the Colgate.

The Merida was a 360-foot steel boat bound from St. William, Canada, to Buffalo. No word has come from her today to her local managers here. She carried a crew of 25. The Merida is owned by the Valley Camp Shipping company and is managed by James Playfair, of Midland, Ont. Local managers refuse to admit her loss but concede their fear for her safety.

Captain Grashaw of the Colgate was picked up in Lake Erie on a life raft by the Marquette and Rescuer car ferry number 2, after he had been at the mercy of the storm for 34 hours. He lives in Cleveland.

The complete list of the lost crew of the Colgate is as follows: Henry Larsen, first mate, Milwaukee, Wis.

BELIEVES SHIP FOUNDERED.

Buffalo, Oct. 23.—The steamer Merida cleared from Buffalo with 24 men, but so far as known her Captain H. L. Jones, was the only member of the crew from this port.

Captain Massey of the steamer Briton, the last vessel known to have sighted the Merida, fears she is lost.

"The Merida was rolling so badly and taking over such big seas that I feared she would founder," he said. "She was 25 miles west of the Southeast Shoal when I saw her Friday and the sea was getting worse. I made Central Point and remained there until Saturday night. If the Merida had gone behind Long Point she should have made Buffalo this

INTERVIEWED STUDIO

HOWARD JONES, ONE OF THE CITY'S BEST KNOWN ATTORNEYS and president of the Rotary club, was born at Granville, O., Oct. 31, 1877. He was graduated from the high school in the village of his nativity in 1893, and entered Denison university, graduating therefrom in 1897. The same year he entered Ohio State university law school and left there in 1898 to accept an appointment as deputy in the probate judge's office under the administration of the late Judge Valdo Taylor.

Mr. Jones was admitted to the bar in 1901, and resigned his office to engage in the practice of law. In 1910 he formed a partnership with Roderic Jones. In 1912 he was elected to the office of prosecuting attorney of Licking county on the Democratic ticket, serving two years and since that time has practiced law in Suite 902-3-4-5 in the Newark Trust building, the firm name being Jones & Jones.

Mr. Jones, who is a member of the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity is also president of the Newark Rotary club, and is a consistent booster of the latter organization. He is ever alert for the club's best interests and never misses a meeting. The subject of this sketch is also a soloist of more than ordinary ability and has a deep, powerful and rich baritone voice, which would have been the envy of many a singer in public life today.

4,078 BUILDINGS ARE DAMAGED BY FIRE IN A YEAR

State Fire Marshal Orders 4092 Buildings Torn Down—Years Fire Loss Reaches $6,378,000.

Columbus, Oct. 23.—The annual report now filed by State Fire Marshal Buckley shows that four thousand and seventy-eight buildings were afire in Ohio, entailing a loss of $6,378,304, during the fiscal year ending June 30th. This loss is a million less than the annual average since the office was established in 1900.

The fire loss has been reduced by this amount although the value of farm products has doubled; the increase in the value of manufactures has more than doubled; a building put up 15 years ago is now worth more money than it cost originally, and the value of new buildings added during those years is enormous.

This splendid reduction in the cost of carelessness with fire is credited to several causes acting together, the more important of which are:

Inspection by firemen in large cities; Fire prevention day in October, following a proclamation by the governor, in which municipal governments have been active; Bulletins on fire dangers, which the newspapers have so generously printed; The search for fire dangers by 30 inspectors of this department, each of whom covers regularly four or five rural counties or a section of a large city.

New activities have been added: A survey of the means for fighting fires in cities, and another of the electrical apparatus in moving picture houses;

An expert inspector of electrical appliances covers the more important business blocks and public buildings;

And, Fire Marshal Buckley has had his assistants, one of whom is in each of the 20 districts into which he has divided the state for supervision of fire dangers, take up the work of enforcing the law for fire drills in public schools.

ZANESVILLE WINS SATURDAY'S GAME BY THREE POINTS

Newark High suffered its first football defeat Saturday afternoon at Wehrle athletic field, when Zanesville High, through a lucky break in the game scored a fluke touchdown, nosing the locals out of a 3-6 victory.

A field goal by fullback Orr from the 25 yard line in the first quarter, gave the locals the hedge in the scoring until the third quarter. Then the visitors forced ahead three points with their lone touchdown and from then on until the final whistle, held Newark a safe enough distance from their goal that Orr was unable to get another boot at the pigskin.

Newark's defeat was an honorable one. They not only sullied Zanesville's record of not having been scored on, but came dangerously close to registering a defeat against the visitors. Friener, Mayer and O'Hara split honors with Orr, the latter's toe being responsible for Newark's three points.

Orr's kicking has been one of the big features of the local's playing this season. The first game he defeated Granville High by a drop kick from the 25 yard line. The following week, he turned the tide of victory to Newark by a 25 yard drop kick, sending the Johnstown team down to a 9-7 defeat.

And Saturday this husky little back booted the ball over, Zanesville's goal posts and only for a fluke play, would have caused the stigma of defeat to blot the visitor's record. The entire Newark team fought hard for the decision, but were out-luckied by their opponents. Aside from the questionable touchdown, the visitors played was deserving of considerable credit, showing why Zanesville has such an excellent record for this season. The lineup:

Claytor Suffers Injury In Game Is In Hospital

Near the end of the last quarter of yesterday's McDaniel-Barracks game, Alex Claytor, playing under the name of Jones for the McDaniel, was knuckled in the back by a Columbus player and was forced to rest for a few minutes. He returned to the game and finished, although he was suffering from the injury.

About an hour later while changing his clothes at the McDaniel hotel, reaction set in, causing the young man considerable pain. After all efforts of his teammates to relieve the pain had failed Manager McDaniel called Bazler's ambulance and Claytor was removed to the City hospital where he was attended by three physicians.

An examination at the hospital disclosed that the player has suffered an injury to his left kidney and it was thought his condition very serious. This morning Dr. J. T. Harbottle reported that Claytor had spent a fairly good night and that unless something unforeseen occurred to change his condition, the young man gave promise of having a speedy recovery.

C. E. McDaniel, manager of the McDaniel team is sparing no expense to see that Claytor recovers every attention necessary to getting him out of the hospital in a short time. Claytor was injured in a scrimmage near the Newark goal line about three minutes before the game finished.

Ex-Gov. Harmon Advises Voters To Support Wilson

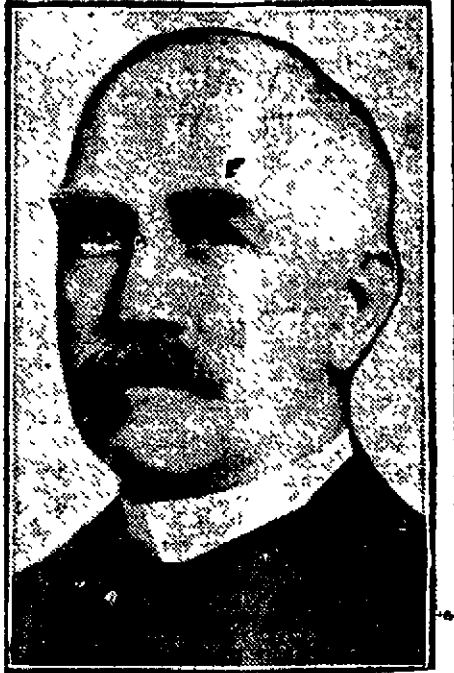

Washington, Oct. 23.—In a striking interview in an eastern newspaper Sunday Ex-Governor Judson Harmon of Ohio says:

"I think the majority of the voters—in Ohio particularly—feel the way I do. This is not the time to change administrations, regardless of the faults one has to find with the present one. President Wilson has accomplished the one great thing that everybody desired—peace. His methods may not have met with approval on all sides, but the result is the thing to be considered at the present time.

"The people of all the nations engaged in the great war are standing by their governments and it is our patriotic duty to do likewise. It would be extremely dangerous to have our country in the hands of a discredited administration and for four months yet, that is what will happen if Mr. Wilson is defeated in November.

"The point is this, we must put aside our personal as well as party prejudices in this national campaign. It is not necessary for us to approve everything that the present administration has done. We must support the present administration for the sake of our country.

"Unprecedented conditions have arisen as a result of the European war. A country divided against itself would court disaster. Accordingly, I say, stand by the president. That is what I am going to do, and I believe my state will do likewise."

JUDSON HARMON.

complicated the one great thing that everybody desired—peace. His methods may not have met with approval on all sides, but the result is the thing to be considered at the present time.

"The people of all the nations engaged in the great war are standing by their governments and it is our patriotic duty to do likewise. It would be extremely dangerous to have our country in the hands of a discredited administration and for four months yet, that is what will happen if Mr. Wilson is defeated in November.

"The point is this, we must put aside our personal as well as party prejudices in this national campaign. It is not necessary for us to approve everything that the present administration has done. We must support the present administration for the sake of our country.

"Unprecedented conditions have arisen as a result of the European war. A country divided against itself would court disaster. Accordingly, I say, stand by the president. That is what I am going to do, and I believe my state will do likewise."

EMPLOYER SEES GREAT NEED OF NIGHT SCHOOL

"Newark needs a public night school and the Chamber of Commerce is to be commended for its efforts in getting one started," declared a large employer of labor today when the movement was brought to his attention. "You can count on my hearty support," he added, as he gave permission to post in his plant circulars calling attention to the proposed school and the need of applicants registering at the office of the superintendent in the high school building, Wednesday, October 25, from 8:00 a. m. to 8:00 p. m.

From telephone inquiries received at the Chamber of Commerce offices there are indications that considerable interest is being taken in the proposed night school by young men and women who are employed in our industrial and commercial institutions and who desire to continue their education.

Representatives of the local commercial body spent Monday driving in an automobile from one industrial plant to another, posting placards advertising the school and obtaining from employers their assurances of support to induce their employees to take advantage of the splendid opportunities offered them by the Newark board of education.

There was an impression at first that the school was for foreign-born people alone, but the board of education has broadened the scope of the school to provide classes for all persons over the age of 16. Professor H. P. Moninger, who had charge of the night school two years ago, will again conduct it.

The loss of the Merida now conceded by the owners makes four lake steamers which went to the bottom of Lake Erie in Friday's storm. The total loss of life is 50. The Marshal F. Butters sank with no loss of life, all thirteen of her crew being saved. The D. F. Filer went down with six men of her crew, only the captain surviving. The James B. Colgate's crew of 22 with the single exception of the captain perished, while every man on the Merida is believed lost.

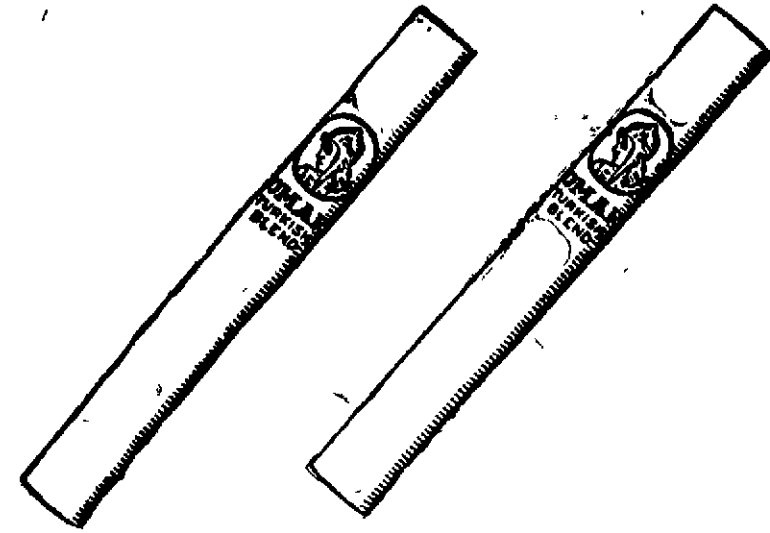

Three bodies from the Merida were picked up by the steamer W. B. Matthews in mid lake yesterday and taken into Toledo today. Four bodies were found bearing Merida life belts by the steamer Charlotte Breitling and landed at Detroit. Reports from another ship sent out from a Canadian port to hunt for the Merida today was the wreckage had been sighted but no survivors and no other bodies were found.

The Merida was docked at Buffalo Saturday with a cargo of pyrites ore. She was commanded by Captain H. L. Jones of Buffalo. The ship was Toledo, Oct. 23.—Three bodies of sailors, wearing life belts stamped Steamer Merida, were brought into port at 4 o'clock this morning on the freight steamer W. B. Matthews, Captain W. G. Cunningham from Toronto.

This is the first definite proof of the loss during a gale last Friday of the steamer Merida with a crew of about 20 men.

Captain Cunningham reports that the bodies were picked up in the middle of Lake Erie between Port Stanley, Ont., and Cleveland.

The bodies were taken from the water at 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon. A fourth body was sighted but on account of high seas the crew of the Matthews was unable to recover it.

Captain Cunningham says that shortly before the bodies were found, the Matthews passed the steamer Charlotte Breitling and that the captain of the Breitling megaphoned him that the Breitling had picked up four bodies three bearing life preservers stamped Merida and one wearing a life belt of the whale-back steamer James Colgate, founded Friday off Long Point lake Erie.

FOUR MORE RECOVERED.

(Associated Press Telegram)

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 23.—The steamer Charlotte G. Breitling arrived today at Sandwich, Ontario, with four bodies of sailors of the steamer Merida. These bodies were picked up in Lake Erie yesterday and the crew of the Breitling felt certain that the Merida foundered in the storm last Friday night. Wreckage including life belts with the word "Merida" on them was seen in Lake Erie, off the Detroit river.

The bodies were brought from Sandwith to Windsor, Ont., for identification.

Cleveland, O., Oct. 23.—G. C. Ossman, of this city, was mourning the death of his brother, Charles Ossman, who was buried Saturday, when he was awakened early today to receive news that his son, Harvey Ossman, 24, had perished when the steamer Colgate went down in Friday's gale.

Ossman would not give up hope today that his son may yet show up at some lake port.

ECHOES OF DANBURY HATTERS' TRAGEDY, APPROVED BY HUGHES WHEN A JUSTICE, RISE TO SCOURGE REPUBLICAN NOMINEE

DEPRIVED OF HOMES AND SAVINGS BY SUPREME COURT DECISION IN FAVOR OF EMPLOYER WHO HAD OPPRESSED THEM, WORKERS TURN TO WILSON FOR THEIR DELIVERANCE FROM SUCH ILLS IN FUTURE

WELCOME CLAYTON ACT THAT PROTECTS UNIONS

TOO LATE, HOWEVER, TO SAVE CONNECTICUT VICTIMS OF SHERMAN LAW—LABOR WRITER DRAWS PATHETIC PICTURE OF OLD FOLKS AND CHILDREN TORN FROM HOMES THAT COST LIFE SAVINGS

By GEORGE F. WEST

"How about the Danbury Hatters' case?" The query is shouted at Candidate Hughes at every campaign meeting where workers and women are gathered. It is shouted at the women of the millionaire Hughes campaign special. It is heard wherever the issue is discussed.

Well, how about the Danbury Hatters' case? What is the case? What lies back of these shouted queries that Mr. Hughes took so long to answer?

Up in Danbury, Connecticut, where 5,000 skilled workmen make hats for all the world, they need no answer from Mr. Hughes. The answer is there before them in living form—more than one hundred families, 500 men, women and children, oppressed by the knowledge that every night may be the last under the roofs of the little homes representing the fruits of twenty, thirty, or forty years of toil, thrift and industry.

This is to tell others a little of what Danbury already knows. It is a story of the law and of a sinner's judgment, on the one hand, against men and women and children on the other—the story of a law that, until President Wilson signed the Clayton act, had ruined working men and their families. It is the story of a law that cost Standard Oil and Tobacco stocks savings.

A Story of Tragedy

It is a story of tragedy—the tragedy of a humble, simple folk whose declining days are overshadowed by fear and anxiety. It is the story of men and women who do not know where they have been taken to the core, who believe firmly today, as they did at the beginning, that their cause is the cause of right and that justice are not infallible.

It is not one story, but a hundred. There is the case of the widow with seven children, her husband dead and savings gone, who scrubbed floors to provide for her family. There is the story of Benedict, the straight-faced old man, English by birth, who, after a long and arduous career, was driven to his grave by anxiety and bewildered questioning over the decision that had turned him, a God-fearing, thrifty, old man, into a law-breaker, pursued by deputy sheriffs and bedeviled by writs of attachment.

There is Michael Hurd, who has lived all his fifty-six years in the home on Shelter Rock avenue, now about to be taken from him. And there is Mrs. Hurd, a sweet-faced, gray-haired woman, who has lived in the home as a bride, and whose children were born and grew up within its walls.

Thirty-two of the thirty-four hat manufacturers of Danbury are in the union. The biggest and most successful of them have testified that they would not employ any other men if they were not in the union. They have testified that they would not employ any other men if they were not in the union. They have testified that they would not employ any other men if they were not in the union.

Only D. E. Loewe and one or two others among the hat makers denied their own right to organize and to send their agents to "talk it over with the boss." Loewe was one of the "old school" employers. With others, he not only refused to work with his men through trade agreements, but he worked against them, opposing and disorder among others.

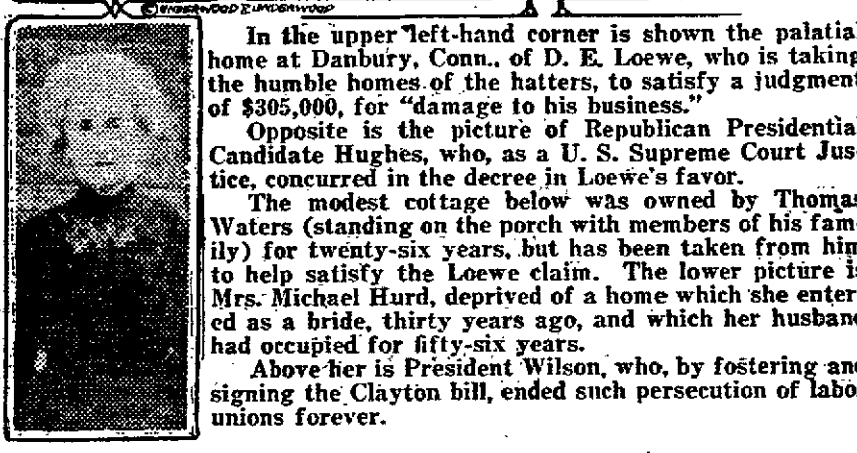

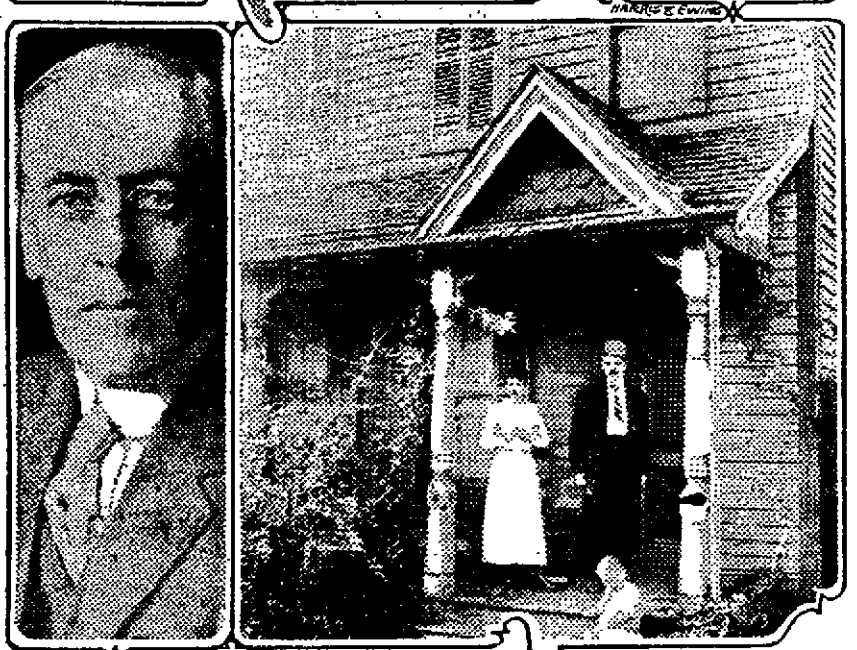

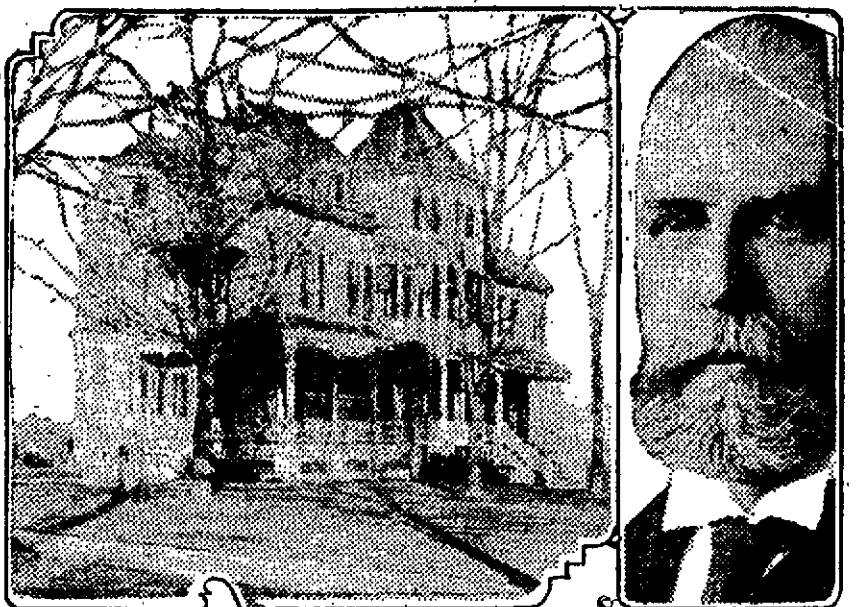

Off in New York, the national officers of the Hatters' Union, in trying to win to the organization the benefits to the Loewe employees, decided on the only course open to the union. The immemorial security of the hat makers' industry in Danbury, dating back without an interruption to the workmen's guilds of Revolutionary times, was threatened. The union decided to circulate their fellow workmen throughout the country, calling attention to the failure of the Loewe company to make use of the union labor, and to the fact that the union was not to buy Loewe hats or patronize stores that acted as Loewe agents.

Entered $240,000 Suit

Urged by a national association of employers bitterly opposed to collective bargaining, Mr. Loewe sued the Hatters' Union in the Federal Court of Connecticut for $240,000 damages, on the theory that the Hatters' Union had violated the Sherman act. This was the first time that a union had been sued in a Federal court for such a large sum of money. The case was heard by Judge Lusk, who, in his judgment, stands today at $240,000.

This was raised the first big issue of the famous case.

"Have working men the right to urge their brother workmen and their friends not to patronize the business of a man who is in their judgment and belief, is hostile and disastrous to their interests and rights?" Issue No. 2 raises an even more remarkable question. For Mr. Loewe was not content to wipe out the treasury of the Hatters' Union, with its limited funds set aside for pensions and sick benefits. He and his allies were determined to terrify and discourage every union man, not only in Dan-

In the upper left-hand corner is shown the palatial home at Danbury, Conn., of D. E. Loewe, who is taking the humble homes of the hatters, to satisfy a judgment of $305,000, for "damage to his business."

Opposite is the picture of Republican Presidential Candidate Hughes, who, as a U. S. Supreme Court Justice, concurred in the decree in Loewe's favor.

The modest cottage below was owned by Thomas Waters (standing on the porch with members of his family) for twenty-six years, but has been taken from him to help satisfy the Loewe claim. The lower picture is Mrs. Michael Hurd, deprived of a home which she entered as a bride, thirty years ago, and which her husband had occupied for fifty-six years.

Above her is President Wilson, who, by fostering and signing the Clayton bill, ended such persecution of labor unions forever.

A visit to Danbury and talks with the men and women who are about to be ejected from their homes, awaiting only a decision on a question of whether Loewe should take the interest on their savings as well as the principal, reveals some of the tragedy behind this real estate law suit.

It reveals another interesting thing. The Danbury hatters are organizing a Wilson-McCormack club, and will cast their votes all most solidly against the Republican candidate. And this regardless of their previous party affiliations. Though the Clayton law was too late to save them, it will save others. And the Danbury hatters are still loyal to the ideals of the workers.

"I don't know much about law," said Mrs. Michael Hurd, who has lived all her long married life in the home now to be taken from her. "But it doesn't seem right to take our home away because of something they did in New York or San Francisco. Mr. Hurd knew nothing about it. Mr. Keane, across the street, knew more about it than our husband, and then didn't attach him. They wanted just the ones who had saved enough to buy a home or who had inherited a little property from their fathers."

Entered Home As Bride

"My husband was born in this house and we have lived here together ever since I came from Bridgeport as a bride. Our daughter was born and brought up right in this house. You can't wonder that we hate to have it taken from us. My husband loves it more than anything in the world except his family. We have sat here of summer evenings for nearly thirty years and watched the sun set over these hills. We'll rent a house somewhere. I suppose. They say nothing can be done to stop them since that Supreme Court decision."

Thomas Waters, with a home on Harrison Street where he has lived for twenty-six years, is also looking for new quarters. His home needs painting badly, and the blinds are gone. His savings were seized by Loewe and he has not known all these years when the home place would go, too. Now he knows that and is about to move.

For, until the full amount of the judgment has been paid, no piece of property standing in the name of any of the indicted defendants will be too small to escape attachment and seizure. What is more, this taking of money given as a charity to the needy, or the money of a man who has saved it for his old age, or the money of a man who has saved it for his children, is a crime. And after it has been distributed there will still be the problem of safeguarding it.

The Big Cop Talks Politics

By Ellis Parker Butler. Author of "Pigs is Pigs"

Terry, the Big Cop on the Main Street beat, halted his number twelve feet alongside Banana Joe's fruit stand and took a nice red apple from the top of the pile.

"Joe, he askin' to vote this fall, I bet you got a v. te," said Joe with a grin. "I no getta my second papers for a long time yet. I no getta my first papers until this beeg war bust out. Then I getta them mighty queek, you bet!"

"I bet you did!" said Terry, peeling his apple carefully. "There's nothing blood thirstier about you, Joe. The corner of Main and Second looks better to you than them trenches, don't it?"

"Larc, Mike!" grinned Joe. "There's because you're nothing but an ignorant foreigner," said the Big Cop. "You don't appreciate the blessing of being shot through the left lung by a thirteen-inch shell. You can see the admirability of having the tag ends of what was once your legs cut off short below your belt by a Red Cross surgeon."

"You talk like a crazy man!" said Joe scornfully. "Whata man wanta that?"

"Plenty of them," said the Big Cop. "You hear them any day now. Republicans on the tails of the carts and on the rostrum—roastin' Woodrow Wilson for leavin' the nation in a condition of peace and plenty. It is awful, what that Wilson has done to the nation! If he had but heeded the advice of the sturdy Republican talkers the cork leg industry might now be in a condition of prosperity never before known. I might be walking my beat in a wheel chair."

"Yes, Joe, peace and prosperity is an awful condition for any nation to be in and the Republicans blame Woodrow Wilson for it. Look at what he has done!" they say. "Every factory in the country running overtime and more work than there is men, and wives living with their husbands, and husbands supporting their children, when if it hadn't been for Woodrow we might even now be in a delightful condition of war and starvation and the monotony of the streets beautified by eight hundred thousand or thereabouts handsomely mangled cripples."

"Vote against Woodrow," they say. "It's a shame we can't have Theodore Roosevelt, but if we can't, let's have the man he's for. Look at yourself," they say, "with all your arms and legs shamefully remaining where they were meant to be, and think how gloriously you might be trimmed of them members if it hadn't been for Woodrow. Maybe now, they say, you'll go down to a ripe old age and never know the blessedness of living the greater part of your life as blind as a mole, with part of your jaw decaying somewhere in the trench where the shell exploded."

"Look at my house," they say, "and then vote for Woodrow if you dare. It stands like it did yesterday and year before last, when—if it hadn't been for the way Woodrow did—it might be one of the finest piles of bricks and ashes ever deserted by the last starved rat. We'll never be full of picturesque ruins and graves of babies that starved to death, like them that makes Belgium so grand, whilst Woodrow is permitted to settle things in the way brainy men would settle them!"

"If you want to know how we feel about Woodrow Wilson," they say, "take a look at Maggie, my wife, and Dora, and Edward, and little John, the baby. Since my wages went up and there's no lay-offs they are as shamefully fat as partridges and as disgracefully happy as larks. It is an awful condition for civilized women and children to be in! But for this outrageous man, Woodrow Wilson, they might all now be happily starving to death on the thin charity supplied by the kind-hearted Mexicans, or delightfully dead from a bomb dropped by an airship. Poor little John! When I think that, if it hadn't been for the way Woodrow handled things, the saucy, fat baby might now be a sweetly reminiscent red spatter on the sidewalk, I can hardly contain myself. I can never forgive Woodrow for not making the United States a sweet scene of murder and rapine and ruined homes!"

"You make me sick!" said Joe. "Who talks like that?"

"Well, what else does it mean, Joe?" he asked, "when they roast Woodrow for not leaping into a war? You can't have war without the to-day trimmings. I can't see up to the only grinch they have against Woodrow is that he kept the country a land of peace and made it a land of plenty."

"Sore, Mike!" said Joe cheerfully.

POLICE BREAK UP POKER GAME ARREST SEVEN

Surprised late last night while enjoying a "social" game of "draw" seven poker players were arrested by police in a raid on their room and taken to the city prison. Several of the men secured bail last night for their appearance in court this morning. Each pleaded not guilty to the charge of gambling and their cases were continued to Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

A man was picked up by the police Saturday night who had in his possession a bag of chickens. Investigation by the officers later developed the fact that the chickens belonged to the man and he was dismissed.

Eight plain drunks were each assessed a fine of $5 and costs and several committed to the county jail.

A resident of North Morris street was arrested on complaint of his wife Sunday evening, charged with assault. He was fined $5 and costs.

Fred Korzenborn, 128 Fleek avenue, late Saturday evening, had a miraculous escape from death when a Ford machine belonging to Al Heel, 17 West Railroad street, which he was driving, was struck by a cut of freight cars on the South Second street railroad crossing.

The machine was badly wrecked. Korzenborn although among the debris of the machine, escaped with a few minor bruises.

According to Korzenborn, he was crossing the tracks when a cut of cars, which he did not see in the darkness, struck the automobile.

ENGINEER FALLS FROM ENGINE; HIS HIP WAS BROKEN

John O. Hart, aged 65 years, 263 Buena Vista street, well known Baltimore and Ohio engineer, suffered a fracture of the left hip late Saturday afternoon, in a fall from the running board of his engine, at Mansfield. He was brought to Newark Saturday evening and moved in Bazler's ambulance to the city hospital.

Today Dr. H. H. Postle, the attending physician took an X-ray picture of the fracture. Mr. Hart's condition is made more serious by the fact that he weighs over 300 pounds.

ESTABLISHED IN 1890

Entered as Second Class Matter
March 10, 1892, at the postoffice at Newark, Ohio, under the Act of March 4, 1879.

It is never a good plan to swap horses while crossing a stream of water.—Abraham Lincoln.

The Adamson Act of Benefit To All.

The employers and employees submitted their differences to the President for adjudication. He offered a compromise which the employers accepted, and the employees, under Wall Street pressure, rejected. The country faced a crisis worse than war. The congressional action of the Adamson law was the only solution.

If no trains had moved, no factories would have operated. Inhabitants of cities would have been unable to secure food. All business would have come to a standstill. Riot and bloodshed with untold disorder and revolution might have followed.

To the farmer this act is of especial importance. He could not have sold his crops or his fat live stock, because he could not have delivered to a market. Counting on the income received from immediate sales, and not getting it because of the general tieup, he would have suffered irretrievable loss and possible bankruptcy.

President Wilson understood all these things. Understanding, he acted, and moved to save his country from disaster. By his foresight and vision and by his decision prosperity and peace have been continued.

Compensation Law.

Constant repetition of misstatements by Governor Willis in regard to workmen's compensation has brought from Senator William Green, the author of the Workmen's Compensation Law, an emphatic statement in which he says: "Under Governor Cox the Liability Insurance companies did not operate. Under Governor Willis they did. The Liability Insurance companies are for Willis. They got what they wanted under him." Mr. Green charged the Governor with mental dishonesty and said that the Governor was trying to substitute an alteration on a lie to hide the truth. Bearing out his statement, the Liability Insurance companies knew they had no right to operate while Cox was Governor. Senator Green quoted from a letter by W. G. Wilson, manager of the Aetna, mailed after the Judge Taggart ruling, saying that the permission was "now" available. He also quoted from a letter by the general agent of another company urging Liability Insurance men "to elect a Republican Governor from whom we can expect relief."

Use of Money the Issue.

Ohio is won for President Wilson. Every class of citizenship is for the continuance of peace and prosperity. As a prominent Eastern newspaper man said: "The only issue the reactionaries who oppose Wilson now have in Ohio is the use of money."

It has leaked out that on Tuesday last the Republican state board planned to raise a fund of $600,000 in Ohio. Of this $200,000 is to come from Cleveland, where already a large corruption fund has been raised and expended. The effort in the use of money is to split the labor vote. No attention is to be paid to the corrupt practice act if the election can be bought those who buy it will escape punishment by controlling the machinery of law. Those men of money who contribute to the fund will be taking their own chances.

We do not believe that the vote of labor is for sale, but it is well for every laboring man to watch carefully those who approach him and

Watch the Teeth.

A recent investigation made by the United States Public Health Service in connection with studies of rural school children showed that 49.3 per cent had defective teeth, and only 16.9 per cent had dental attention. Over 14 per cent never used a tooth brush. 58.2 per cent used one occasionally and only 27.4 per cent used one daily. Defective teeth reduce physical efficiency. Dirty, suppurating, snaggle-toothed mouths are responsible for many cases of heart disease, rheumatism, and other chronic affections. The children are not responsible for the neglected state of their teeth. The ignorant and careless parent is to blame for this condition—a condition which hampers mental and physical growth and puts a permanent handicap on our future citizens. School teachers can and are doing much in inculcating habits of personal cleanliness on the rural school child but this will fail of the highest accomplishment unless parents co-operate heartily and continuously. This is a duty which we owe to our children.

Workman's Compensation.

At the last session of the Ohio legislature a resolution was introduced to reconsider the Workman's Compensation act. Laboring men who are protected by the compensation law will be interested to know that John S. Graham, the member from Licking county, voted against the labor committee's recommendation for indefinite postponement. In other words Mr. Graham's vote on that occasion was cast in favor of the liability insurance companies. James J. Hill, the Democratic candidate for representative from Licking county, is a staunch friend of the Workmen's Compensation law.

Myron T. Herrick was elected governor of Ohio in 1903, his plurality being more than 140,000. Two years later when he came up for reelection he was defeated by an adverse plurality of more than 40,000. There were two reasons for this change of front on the part of the voters. Mr. Herrick is now a candidate for the United States Senate against Atlee Pomerene, who has stood shoulder to shoulder with President Wilson.

Ohio Republicans are now to adopt the Indiana plan of getting votes for Hughes. That plan is to hire every man as a worker and pay him for his vote. A strong drive is to be made against labor, but labor, like all the rest of us this year, is set.

"Temporary" Prosperity.

(Philadelphia Record.) Among the campaign issues discussed by Candidate Hughes is that of what he calls our "temporary" prosperity. This he asserts, is entirely due to the European war and when that ceases he predicts a dreadful slump here. The only remedy he suggests is to jack the tariff so high that no foreign-made goods can be admitted to the United States, and so that the domestic market will be preserved for the home worker.

As a political economist Mr. Hughes has never ranked high, and he has never claimed to be an expert on questions of trade. His views, therefore, are only those of a campaign stump speaker and are to be appraised as such. For a really intelligent discussion of this question it is a pleasure to turn to a non-partisan authority. The Journal of Commerce, of New York, all prosperity, it points out, is temporary, and periods of depression and activity alternate in all nations. "Countries of high tariff," it says, "have been as subject to these fits and starts in business as those of low duties or practical free trade, and while those nations that have had strong and sound banking machinery have been free from the panic or crisis conditions observable where currency or credit systems were unsound, they have not been able to escape the ups and downs of prosperity and dullness in business."

The Journal is confident that the present prosperity will continue for more than a year, and that if a gradual decline in activity should then begin it would merely be following past precedents. It further says: "Recalling that business had been fair and improving in many parts of the country for a good while before the present maximum levels were reached, it is seen that the prosperity of today is not temporary in any other sense than that prosperity of like periods heretofore. The complaints and gloomy forecasts based upon a belief in its short-lived character are thus seen to be misleading. As a political issue, the duration of prosperity, therefore, undoubtedly disappears. It is little more than a campaign cry."

The Journal protests against the suggested restoration of an abnormally high tariff. This would not only terrify foreign nations against us, but would close those very markets upon which we must depend if production here is to be maintained on a large scale. It would be well if Candidate Hughes could absorb such ideas for campaign dissemination. They would indicate a more intelligent subject than he has yet displayed.

Quaker Quips.

(Philadelphia Record.) Pride sooth before a fall, and in the autumn even the thermometer isn't as stuck up as it was. Fred work isn't a new wrinkle. In fact when it comes in your face any old wrinkle is fresh work.

Senator Pomerene.

No one familiar with the senatorial record of Atlee Pomerene can escape the conviction that the senator has shown himself to possess an admirable courage at every stage of his career. He has been a faithful representative of Ohio, a man with his ideals of public service, who has considered his Americanism of more importance than his Democracy.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

WHY I AM FOR WILSON

By Jacob H. Schiff

Financier and Philanthropist.
Member of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., New York Bankers.

President Wilson's administration has been almost throughout a constructive one. The enactment of a new and just tariff law and the establishing of the Federal Reserve Bank system are momentous achievements, from the benefit of which the country should profit after the European war is over even more than at present.

But what I consider President Wilson's greatest accomplishment is that he has in a great measure succeeded in bringing about a rapprochement between the producing and the consuming classes, so that the great and hurtful antagonism which, before the present administration came into power, had made itself felt almost in every substantial interest, has now almost ceased.

Prosperity insuring to the benefit of a Democratic Administration is naturally disgusting to Republicans, but it is doing them a lot of good. It is converting them from their old crass materialism. They are beginning to measure values in spiritual terms. In the old days, they used to rejoice in the most vulgar way about the full dinner pail and a chicken in every pot, but now they ask, plaintively, What is all this worth if the things of the national soul are neglected? and they are inventing new adjectives to go with prosperity. Now it seems to them "smug," "sordid," "stodgy," even "un-American." The Republican who has been traveling in the West, and to whose letter, so pessimistic about the outlook for Hughes, The Tribune innocently gave prominence yesterday, returns with a feeling very much like loathing for the prosperity which has "engulfed" the mid-Westerners. It pains him to find that "the heirs of abundance" out West "do not wish to be disturbed"—that is, do not wish to have a Democratic Administration disturbed. If this process of Republican change goes on, the party will soon be singing the praises of poverty, and saying that there is nothing like an empty stomach to stimulate true patriotism.

Doing Republicans a Lot of Good.

(New York Evening Post.)

Hardly a week passes that Uncle Sam, honored and respected by all, does not receive such a message. Poland sends an agonized appeal for aid, and Serbia puts in a similar plea. Belgium owes its existence, so far as it has any, to American sympathy and aid. Germany, Great Britain, France, Russia, all the embattled nations, seek the friendship of the United States against the enemy. This hardly indicates a lack of influence on the part of the American people. Possibly the explanation is that Messrs. Hughes, Roosevelt and Root have been trifling with the truth. They have been known to do that under the exhilarating effects of a political campaign.

"Good Company" for Independents.

(Springfield Republican.)

There has been no Presidential campaign since 1892, in which independent voters could find such "good company" in supporting the Democratic candidate as in the present one. Rev. Dr. Washington Gladden, of Columbus, Ohio, who has voted for every Republican President chosen since 1890, declared for Wilson yesterday. Dr. Gladden's position helps to explain somewhat why Ohio is now classed as a doubtful State. In New York city, Rev. Percy Stickney Grant has also decided to support Wilson. Both of these well-known clergymen were supporters of Mr. Roosevelt in 1912. No one need apologize for voting for a candidate who gets the warm support of Dr. Charles W. Eliot, Thomas A. Edison, Henry Ford, Jane Addams and Dr. Washington Gladden, of whom the last four have never been in affiliation with the Democratic party.

Not Without Influence.

(Philadelphia Record.)

If we may believe Mr. Hughes, the Colonel, Elihu Root and G. O. P. spellbinders generally, all Europe looks with contempt upon the United States. We have not a friend on earth they say, and are quite without influence. The rest of the indictment can be found in any speech

JUDICIAL TICKET

X MAURICE H. DONAHUE
X JAMES G. JOHNSON
For Judge of the Court of Appeals (Vote for One)
X R. S. SHIELDS
For Judge of the Probate Court (Vote for One)
X ROBERTS HUNTER

Two judges of the Supreme Court, one judge of the Court of Appeals and one judge of the Probate Court are to be voted for in this county. The above are the Democratic candidates only. The names of all candidates for judge will appear on a separate ballot, without party designation whatever. The names appear in different order on each ballot. It is necessary for each voter to fix the above names in his mind so that he can find them on the ballot, and place "X" in front of each name as above shown. Do not fail to vote this judicial ticket. You have no duty more important, and vice men all deserve election. Take this clipping to the voting booth with you, and get your judicial ticket from it. It is proper and lawful to do so. Print out the above names and vote for them.

"THE LIBERATOR"

of the Colonel, with all his lurid trimmings.

In view of this deplorable state of affairs it must be accounted astonishing that great crowds of Greeks made an imposing demonstration in front of the American legation in Athens on Wednesday asking the assistance of the United States against the aggressions of the allies. Only yesterday the cables brought a protest from Holland to this country against the operations of German submarines near our coast.

Hardly a week passes that Uncle Sam, honored and respected by all, does not receive such a message. Poland sends an agonized appeal for aid, and Serbia puts in a similar plea. Belgium owes its existence, so far as it has any, to American sympathy and aid. Germany, Great Britain, France, Russia, all the embattled nations, seek the friendship of the United States against the enemy. This hardly indicates a lack of influence on the part of the American people. Possibly the explanation is that Messrs. Hughes, Roosevelt and Root have been trifling with the truth. They have been known to do that under the exhilarating effects of a political campaign.

Acquainted With President.

(St. Louis Republic.)

Wilson will be re-elected because the common man is "for him." The reason is not far to seek. It is that the President has put the welfare of the great mass of the people first in all his acts and decisions.

When the agreed term of service of a faithful workman ends and he is re-engaged there is rarely any specific act of his in the mind of his employer. If questioned, he would say that "he had found him faithful to his employer's interest, and so had been glad to re-engage him." That is the way the American people—the farmer, the carpenter, the butcher, the baker, the grocer, the brakeman, the spade hand, the machinist, the blacksmith—feel about President Wilson.

There is much talk about particular decisions and accomplishments. But deeper than popular indorsement of any special act is the collective impression produced by all the decisions and all the achievements—that is the impression of a man serving the public interest and not the special interests; governing under the Constitution in the interest primarily of men, not of dollars; untortured by "inner circles" and favored groups; moved ever by a vivid conception of government as the guardianship of the general welfare first, last and all the time.

We know our familiar friends, not by particular acts and words, but by an impression which has been stamped on us by all the acts and all the words. This, in fact, is what acquaintance means. The American people in the past three years and a half, in the midst of new perils and new opportunities, have come to know the President. It is the verdict of acquaintance which they will register next month.

It was built with large square stones on a raised platform and led direct from the gates of Rome to Capua, in Campania. Miss Carr is popular with the younger set, and in Catholic circles in the city. Mr. Kureth, who is assistant publicity representative of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, has a wide circle of friends among the younger business men of Baltimore. WONDERFUL TALE OF AN ACTRESS Struggled with Sickness and Discouragement; How Relieved.

Dayville, Killingly, Conn.—"I shall be glad to have every woman know what I know now, after using Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Although I am only 24 years old, I have suffered for the past eight years. I hated the doctors, for a doctor told me to give up the stage where I was playing with my husband. I had bearing down pains, my health failed me, and I could not work on the stage, and wasn't able to tend my baby or even get around myself. I was always downhearted and discontented with the world, and only lived for the sake of my little girl. The doctor said to move to some quiet little town away from the noisy city, and I might be able to live and feel well, so I went to Dayville in November. At that time I was so sick I could not walk around, and my husband kept house and I stayed in bed. One day in January I read your advertisement in a newspaper, and I sent for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and started taking it. Within two weeks time I was a different woman, could get around, and felt so good that it was a pleasure to do housework. I felt contented and happy, and now am the picture of health, and am tempted to return to the stage. We appreciate my health as the most precious thing on earth."—Mrs. H. L. KLEGG, Box 55, Killingly, Conn.

After an experience of 25 years, during which time 50 million Americans have used Kondon's Catarrhal Jelly, the manufacturers of this remedy feel so sure that it will relieve catarrh—that they offer to pay for a chance to prove its benefit to any catarrhal sufferer. They announce that any resident of this community can go to almost any drug store and get a complimentary trial can at the expense of the manufacturers. If the druggist has no gratuitous packages, the person may buy a 25 cent tube with the unqualified understanding that if that first tube does not do that person more than a dollar's worth of good, he or she can get their quarter back from either the druggist or the Kondon Company at Minneapolis. Over 35,000 druggists know Kondon's Catarrhal Jelly is effective, harmless, and pleasant to apply—and they know the Kondon people will gladly live up to this offer—"quarter back if not worth a dollar." The Mothers' Call to Mothers

On the Signing of the Child Labor Bill by President Wilson.

By John O'Keefe.

O sisters hasty of thinking! O sisters changeful of mood! Hear us of the newer slave-ring, where white was the shackled brood! Hear us! Hear us of the Workland, the mothers' multitude!

Ours was the task to breed and breed,
And bear and bear and bear—
To see the fruit of Heaven's seed
Rot in its earliest air!
Ours was the task to raise, weak-kneed,
More toil-doomed babies there!

O sisters rich in your children, to whom ye give of the best—
Yet doubly ye who never have known faint music at your breast—
Rise with us here to bless the man by whom our babes were blessed!

They rose before the sun's hot spear
For their day's torture fell;
The feet God meant for playing here
Limped to the factory hell
Until the Great Good Overseer
Rang His last calling bell!

O babies born in the purple, who sip from a golden spoon—
Who never have known the flavor of a shop in an iceless June—
Hear ye the baby toiler crying who never has learned to crouch!

Our puny ones, born less of light
Than cattle in a shed,
Heirs to the poor's one cursed right,
Found toys in looms unfed,
And on a background black as night
Wove out their lives in red!

O sisters warm in the sunrises by the fingers of God outflung—
Who never tried with a shrivelled breast to moisten a shrivelled tongue!
Shall ye not bless with us the man who rose to bless our young?

O eyes that opened in the dark,
Where dead babes stared aghast—
Far from the world of sun and lark
And God's own radiance vast—Look! In the sky is born a spark!
The light has come at last!

O sisters crowned with the ballot, the best of all boons that be!
Do ye not feel the baby hands, by His good hand set free?
They pluck at your ballots, sisters, as if to vote for ye!

tary Mrs. Charles Allen; treasurer Mrs. John M. Mitchell; delegate, to City Federation and Library Association, Mrs. Harry P. Scott; Chairman Program committee, Mrs. U. O. Stevens.

Granville

(Special to The Advocate)

Granville, O., Oct. 23.—Despite a number of conflicting engagements for Saturday evening and the standing engagement of Granville merchants to keep their stores open on that evening of the week, a large audience assembled in the Opera House to hear Edward Amherst Ott in his second lecture "The Haunted House." The audience did not assemble promptly and it must have been nearly 8:30 when the speaker was escorted to the stage and introduced by Prof. E. P. Johnston, faculty member of the committee, and a former pupil of Mr. Ott. The lecturer possesses a sonorous voice and a compelling personality, which emphasized his message and kept his hearers interested for nearly two hours. Mr. Ott is a thinker, an observer, an educator, and a patriot. He already has many admirers in Granville, who heard the first lecture of his series of four, "Sour Grapes," and he will always find a well filled house whenever he returns to the village. The committee is to be congratulated on the high character of the entertainments it has engaged for the winter and spring. The next number on the course will be given on November 23 by Adrian Nevens, Mondogist.

Mrs. R. S. Caldwell and Miss M. E. Penney were among the Granville people privileged to hear the twilight concert given by Miss Florence King in the Second Presbyterian church, yesterday.

Mrs. Buchman and Miss Charlotte Buchman entertained friends from Gambier over Sunday.

Dr. and Mrs. George Felton of Berea, Kentucky, who have been Granville visitors for nearly a week, left today for their home.

The Shepardsen Athletic Association enjoyed their annual Halloween revel Saturday evening in Doane Gymnasium. The masqueraders appeared in fantastic and charming costumes, according to their mood. A good orchestra was in attendance, light refreshments were served, and the merry makers proceeded to "watch their step" until the time was up—somewhere around 10 o'clock.

"Don't you know," replied a Granville lady, who was receiving birthday felicitations—"that's a woman who tells her age will tell anything! It all depends upon my mood as to whether I am twenty-eight or eighty."

"Don't ask me!"

ALHAMBRA.

Blanche Sweet in "The Storm." Blanche Sweet will be seen at the Alhambra on tonight and tomorrow, in the Jesse L. Lasky production of "The Storm," a thrilling Paramount drama written especially for her by Leighton Osmun, and produced for the Lasky Company by Frank Relicher.

Miss Sweet has been seen in many roles, but in "The Storm" she appears as a half wild, fun-loving daughter of a retired professor who is so submerged in his studies that he permits his daughter to run at will in the Main summer resort where they live.

The majority of the scenes in this thrilling drama were taken in the mountains near an unfrequented lake. The company was forced to go several hundred miles by train, nearly fifty miles by automobile and through part of the country they had to construct their own road. Here they camped for several weeks.

"Friday the Thirteenth." William A. Brady will present, as his next release on the World Film program, Robert Warwick in "Friday, the Thirteenth," taken from Thos. W. Lawson's famous story of the stock exchange. In the picture seen in support of Edmund Breeze, the eminent dramatic actor, when "The Weakness of Strength," the newest Popular Plays and Players release on the Metro program, comes to the Auditorium Tuesday and Wednesday.

Together with this wonderful Metro photoplay, Mgr. Fenberg will inaugurate another serial in 15 Episodes, said to be the most superlative serial motion picture ever screened and it is called "The Crimson Stain Mystery." The first episode is "The Brand of Satan" and in it the story of brain, skill, genius, love and power with the Master Star Maurice Costello and the beautiful Ethel Grandin at the head of the greatest of casts. The story by Albert Payson Terhune is written in sparkling chapters and none should miss it. A two reel chapter will be shown each week until the 15 chapters are shown. Every week together with a Metro Photoplay, The Overland Automobile Co. are going to give 13 Touring Cars away to those who offer the best suggestion for a Five Reel photoplay to be made from events seen in "The Crimson Stain Mystery."

A scene in William Fox's new photoplay, which Will Davis directed, "The Straight Way," required two and a half weeks to erect. It was a stone building, constructed on the open-air platform of the Cliff-playing in his eyes and on his lips as he tells her of his great love. You will see him rise from a lowly life to one of affluence and power, through indomitable courage, supreme faith and immovable honesty. Seats ready Thursday.

when Lyman H. Howe's Travel Festival will take you there and back with every degree of comfort. The program provides a wealth of superb scenic screen productions not alone from Hawaii, but from other quarters of the globe. Interspersed with these artistic subjects that are so pleasantly instructive, the lighter side—the laughter—prompted by Howe's comedy cartoons, will come as a pleasant and invigorating tonic. These quaint conceits created by Howe's cartoon artist-comedians have a distinction that is thoroughly their own. They are not of the pointless, coarse, or slap-stick variety. They appeal to real humor. They cater to finer sensibilities rather than to mistaken ideas of wit.

Seats for both afternoon and evening performances will be reserved. Seats ready Friday a. m.

"The Only Girl."

The admirers of Victor Herbert who had reached the conclusion that this brilliant composer had put his finest inspiration in "The Red Mill," "Mile. Modiste," and others of his earlier compositions, had good reason to revise that opinion in the musical comedy delight "The Only Girl," written in conjunction with Henry Blossom, which will be on view at the Auditorium theatre on Wednesday, Nov. 1st.

This new work excels anything "the big man with the smile" has ever done and is full of musical numbers which ring true with all the old familiar Herbert lilt and swing.

GRAND.

"The Yellow Menace," sixth episode of "The Yellow Menace," will be shown at the Grand on Tuesday. The half-caste, seeing the hapless Najla literally tortured on the rack, tries to save her by revealing Lal Singh's whereabouts. Manning fearfully succumbs to a dose of poison gas placed in his library after his butler has been killed. Bronson saves him, and the two, aided by police and a company of soldiers, surround a house in a New Jersey marsh. The place is rushed, but Ali Singh escapes, carrying off Margaret and Najla. May having made a dramatic escape by a knotted sheet from an upper story.

"The Canbyhill Outlaws," a Tom Mix Western drama, will also be shown.

WALTER RAUCH. With K. of C. Minstrels. Mr. Rauch has been on the stage before and needs no introduction to Newark audiences. He has a pleasing baritone voice and is sure to make a great many more friends when he appears at the Auditorium theatre on Thursday night, Oct. 26.

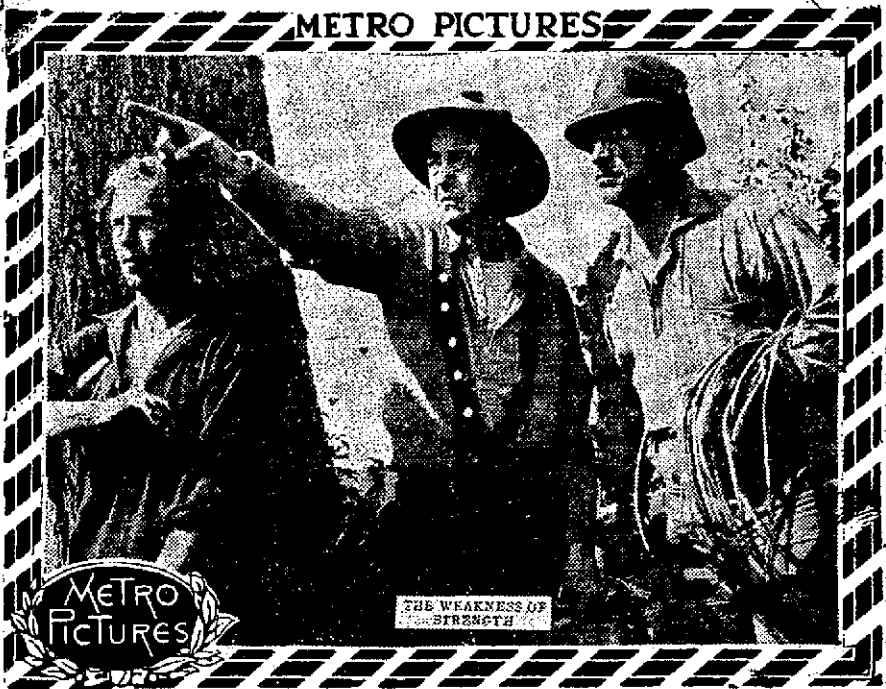

End of the Story.

"Oh, if I were only beautiful," she sighed artfully.

"I wouldn't care if I were you," he said. "You are very intelligent and you have a sweet disposition. Besides, you are nice to your mother, and all that is much better than being beautiful."

And he was never invited to see her again.—Pall Mall Gazette.

Mr. Warwick plays the role of the Napoleon of Wall Street, and those who have seen this picture at a private exhibition given for the benefit of Mr. Lawson, say that in this role, Mr. Warwick far surpasses even his wonderful work in "Alias Jimmy Valentine" and "The Man of the Hour." "Friday, the Thirteenth" will be shown at the Alhambra theatre on Wednesday and Thursday.

AUDITORIUM.

At the Auditorium theatre today "Blotch" Cooper will present his "Beauty, Youth and Folly" company headed by those two exceedingly brilliant musical stars Western and Harrison, assisted by an unusually strong company in a merry two act musical comedy.

This season the company will present a number of all star vaudeville acts which will be offered during the action of the entertainment. "Beauty, Youth and Folly" is the work of that funny vaudeville Billy K. Wells, who also supplied the score. The production has been staged under the personal direction of Mr. Cooper and Raymond B. Perez was especially engaged to arrange the ensemble numbers.

Miss Harrison has interpolated her "Nut" specialty into the action of the play and from the continuous roars of laughter she evokes her title of "Princess of Nuts" is a well earned one.

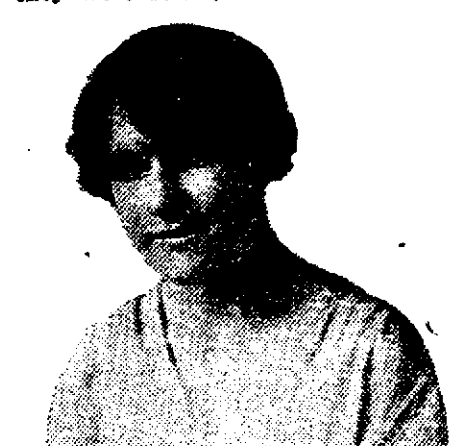

Seats are selling fast, and capacity crowds are looked for.

HAD RHEUMATISM OF JOINTS SINCE SHE WAS FOUR YEARS OLD

Pretty Lynn Miss, After Suffering Tortures of Terrible Disease, Says Var-ne-sis Removed Every Ache and Pain

Miss Gladys Horton, of 15 Abbott street, Lynn, Mass., is a happy girl, and who wouldn't be after suffering from rheumatism of the joints since they were four years old? She said:

MISS GLADYS HORTON.

"I don't believe anyone can realize what I have gone through. When I was small I had to be wheeled in a small carriage and lifted in and out, absolutely helpless, and all I could look forward to was an invalid's life—a life of helplessness, of pain and torture.

"Rheumatism was in almost every joint in my body, and the pain and stiffness in my ankles, feet and knees kept me from walking or moving about. I was different from most people suffering from this terrible disease, as I could not sleep in an ordinary bed on account of my back, and had to get what rest I could in a Morris chair. If I wanted to go to any particular room in the house I had to be carried there. I was unable to turn or move without assistance.

"My fingers were bent and deformed and drawn toward the palms of my hands. I was unable to cut my food or feed myself. The pain—well, only one who has suffered knows what that was.

"Var-ne-sis was recommended to my mother. I began the treatment. She didn't expect that a few bottles would help me, but I persisted in taking the medicine for some time, and I gradually noticed that the pain was not so severe, and today I am free from every sign of rheumatism—haven't a pain or an ache. A large number of my friends know the condition I was in and all agree that Var-ne-sis has accomplished wonders for me."

Send to W. A. Varney, Lynn, Mass., for the newspaper on rheumatism.

Everyone Should Drink Hot Water in the Morning

Wash away all the stomach, liver, and bowel poisons before breakfast.

To feel your best day in and day out, to feel clean, inside, no sour bile to coat your tongue and sicken your breath or dull your head; no constipation bilious attacks, sick headache, colds, rheumatism or gassy, acid stomach, you must bathe on the inside like you bathe outside. This is vastly more important, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while the bowel pores do, says a well known physician.

To keep these poisons and toxins well flushed from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, drink before breakfast each day, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This will cleanse, purify and freshen the entire alimentary tract, before putting more food into the stomach.

Get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from your druggist. It is inexpensive and almost tasteless, except a sourish twinge which is not unpleasant. Drink phosphated hot water every morning to rid your system of these vile poisons and toxins; also to prevent their formation.

To feel like young folks feel; like you felt before your blood, nerves and muscles became saturated with an accumulation of body poisons, begin this treatment and above all, keep it up! As soap and hot water act on the skin, cleansing, sweetening and purifying, so limestone phosphate and hot water before breakfast, act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels.

McDaniel Stars Defeat the Soldier Eleven; Fitz Team Wins From Independents

A crowd of more than 500 football fans Sunday afternoon at Wehrle park, saw the McDaniel gladiators, "Newark's prides," out-fight and out-play their heavier opponents, the Columbus Barracks team, and romp under the wire a 6-0 winner.

"Dutch" Pfeiffer, of Zanesville, scored the touchdown for the locals near the end of the second quarter, when he received a 15-yard forward pass from his fellow townsman, Clayton, and deposited the ball back of Columbus' goal posts. As Pfeiffer shot over the goal line, the crowd on the sidelines let out a yell that could be heard to the public square. And the shouting continued for several minutes, intermingled with the Buckeye Band making their instruments perform in one big discordant noise.

It would be a hard proposition to pick out one player on the local team that did not star individually in his particular department of the game. Every linesman was in their fighting like a madman against the hulks of beef on the visitors' line.

Two new stars appeared on the local football horizon which materially strengthened the "Macs". They were Paul Bowser, world's middle-weight wrestling champion, of this city and Jackson, of South Chicago. Bowser surprised not only the crowd but the players, by his wonderful defense work. He was in every play, proving a stumbling block to the advances of the visitors. The first quarter was still young, when the Barrack's players began crying, "Get Bowser." And for a time Paul had hard sledding, but his wonderful endurance again stood him in good stead and he weathered the onslaught of at least four big huskies on each play. But despite the roughing, Bowser was there at the finish of the game and fighting just as hard.

Jackson, who hails from South Chicago, and playing his first game before a Newark crowd, proved conclusively that he was everything and more, than he told Manager MacDaniel, when he applied for a try-out on the team. Captain Davis, placed Jackson on right end and it was a wise move, as he made a great running mate with Jenkins on the other end.

With one or two exceptions not a Columbus player gained any ground around the Chicago man's end, and like Bowser, Jackson was into every play, breaking up the visitors' interference and getting the man with the ball. In one instance, he successfully battered his way through the interference of three huskies and as he was falling from the impact, threw out his arms, getting the man with the ball and bringing him down.

Pfeiffer and Clayton of Zanesville, both were great assets in Newark's victory. Pfeiffer by his line plunging and kicking; Clayton by the excellent manner in which he directed the team's play, his end runs and by passing the ball for long gains on forward passes.

Columbus resorted entirely to straight football the first three quarters of the game, but changed in the last period and made several good gains by the aerial route. Newark's play was mostly end runs and forward passes, but in a number of occasions resorted to straight football.

The first quarter was a beauty. Newark stood up against their heavier opponents and time and again held them for downs. The best example of the fighting spirit of the locals, was displayed in the last quarter with only three minutes of play left. Columbus by a series of forward passes had advanced the ball to Newark's 15-yard line. The McDaniel line stiffened for the onslaught of the heavies. Three times they held them to small gains. Then with only three yards to go, every local man laid down on the line determined to get the ball on the next down. And they did. When the headlinesman measured the gain of the soldiers, the pigskin was just a foot from the needed point.

Then Pfeiffer dropped back of the goal line and punted far down the field. Columbus started to bring the ball back for another try at the goal, but the game ended with the leather in the center of the field.

Captain Davis and Jenkins made some big gains on forward passes from Clayton, but the biggest gain of the game was made on a forward pass from Clayton to Jenkins for 40 yards, which play put the locals in position to score the first and only touchdown of the game.

Newark's victory is more remarkable when it is taken into consideration that the only practice had by the team was Sunday morning, that few of the players were in their real condition and that they were fighting against a team that outweighed them many pounds. Altogether it was a football classic and sent the fans home in a pleasant frame of mind.

One of the rules made before the game by both captains provided for a penalty being imposed upon either team if the referee heard any player indulging in profanity. This is an excellent rule and will do more toward furthering the interest of the game here than anything else. The fans want clean football and not rowdiness.

In the third quarter one of the Columbus players unintentionally swore at a member of his own team, and as it was heard by Referee Koblen, Columbus suffered a penalty of 15 yards. There was no more profanity.

Next Sunday the McDaniels team goes to Columbus to meet the Barracks and this week will see the boys out for plenty of practice so they can repeat yesterday's victory.

Previous to the McDaniel-Barracks game, the Fitzsimmons team meet the Columbus Independents, in the first game of the twin football bill offered by Managers McDaniel and J. M. Fitzsimmons and registered 13-0 victory. In the Fitzsimmons team the fans had an opportunity of seeing the lighter stars of Newark's football colony, in action.

The Fitzsimmons team started right after the Columbus aggregation and it was not long until it was evident that Sunday was Newark day in football and that the lighter stars were doing their part to make a double victory.

The Independents were taken off their feet by the speed of the Fitz footballers but put up a hard fight to stop the Fitz rushes. J. Dennison's work was one of the big bright spots in the contest.

Dennison made big gains through the Columbus line and when he had a clear field, he threw fear into the hearts of his opponent by his speed in getting down the field and eluding tackling players.

J. McCarty, J. and A. Dennison, H. Colon and McManus, in the backfield featured in the Fitzsimmons play. In this team Newark has got a light aggregation that will make any team in the state their weight, hurry for the verdict. The lineups: McDaniels (6) Barracks (6)

CHICK HARLEY'S INSTINCT WON FOR OHIO STATE

Urbana, Ill., Oct. 23.—Ohio State, the wee lad of the western conference kicked off his knee breeches here this frosty October afternoon and entered the party of feared "big boys" by defeating Illinois. "Chick" Harley, was the lad, who with but two minutes to play, dashed around Klein, the Illinois right end for 15 yards and a touchdown. This same Harley then called for a dry right shoe from the sidelines and planted his toe into the ball for a goal from touchdown and thereby scored the one point needed for victory.

Bart Macomber beautiful kicker and a wonderful ball totter had once in the first period and once in the second period scored for his team by the air route and the six points thus scored looked big and dishastening until the Willicen opened up with a wonderful forward pass attack in the last quarter of the game.

Once, before Harley made his touchdown the ball was worked to Illinois' 17 yard line to be lost on downs. Forward passing again brought the ball within range and on the fourth down with six yards to go, Harley received the ball from Kelley Vandyne that started to be a forward pass play. Harley, wonderful for football instinct, saw the Illinois defense on the right side of the line sucked in by its momentary hesitation and then darted across the field with teeth set and his legs carrying him as fast as human energy could make them pass over the turf. He cleared all opposition and dropped across the goal in the far northwest corner. It was a touchdown. His team mates went wild and the 175 Ohio rooters with them. But not Harley, he went about the business of getting ready to kick out and dropped the ball to Norton on the 22 yard line.

Then came the change of sides and preparation for the act that would bring victory. Vandyne held the ball. Harley stepped up and drove the pigskin high and midway between the posts. The game had been won. A few minutes were left to play. Illinois tried bewildering trick stuff but it availed nothing and a pass was intercepted by Bolen just as the whistle blew. It was Ohio State's ball on Illinois' 16 yard line when the game ended. Illinois had been eliminated from the conference race. Her sturdy devotion of the great college sport withdrew to the dressing room in tears. The Illinois Military band of 80 pieces and 300 Illinois students sang "Illinois Loyalty" by the way one of the finest college anthems the writer has ever heard in all his travels to attend college athletic events.

Denison Tears Her Way Through Reserve's Line

Cleveland, Ohio, Oct. 23.—Reserve caught a tartar in Denison Saturday afternoon as Case field, losing to the Granville collegians, 27 to 6, in a game that was hard-fought from whistle to whistle. It was simply a case of going up against a team that knew more football, had a more powerful attack and a better defense.

There was no stopping Denison's smashing offense. Rupp, Decker and Jenkins crashed through the Reserve line for gain after gain. End runs from punt formations also helped the visitors put the ball to within scoring distance. Lineup and summary:

FATIMA

A Sensible Cigarette

More men are now
smoking SENSIBLY—

MEN ARE willing to think a little more carefully today even about the cigarette they choose.

That is good sense. For if an otherwise good cigarette is unfortunate in its blend—if it disturbs after continued smoking—it is not worth while.

The one reason why Fatimas appeal strongly to so many thinking men is that they do not disturb. Fatimas are truly comfortable—comfortable to throat as well as tongue. And they always leave a man feeling fine and "fit" even after a long-smoking day.

"With Excess Uric Acid in Your System You Can Never Be Free From Rheumatism"

Why? Because any exposure to cold, drafts, dampness or nervous shocks chills your blood; it strangles; the uric acid crystallizes and forms deposits of needle-like particles which lodge in the joints and tissues. Intense pain and Rheumatism.

It was precisely for just this condition that Kampfmüller's Rheumatic Remedy was conceived.

In a perfectly harmless way it acts as an eliminating agency. The excess uric acid crystals are dissolved; they are carried off through the bowels and kidneys; inflammation and swelling go down quickly. When your system is entirely freed of the excess of this poison you are cured!

SUDDEN DEATH

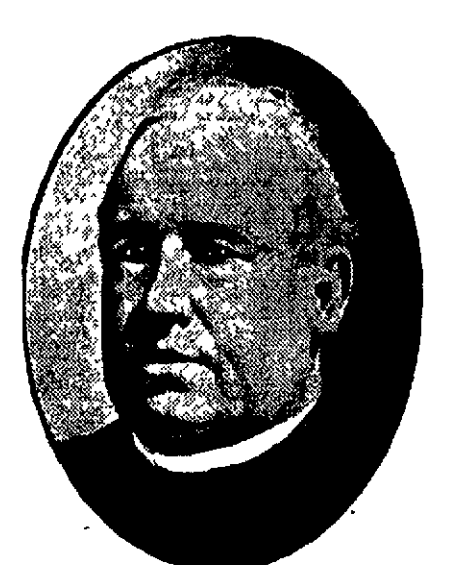

Caused by Disease of the Kidneys.

The close connection which exists between the heart and the kidneys is well known nowadays. As soon as kidneys are diseased, arterial tension is increased and the heart functions are attacked. When the kidneys no longer pour forth waste, uric acid poisoning occurs and the person dies, and the cause is often given as heart disease, or disease of brain or lungs.
It is a good insurance against such a risk to send 10 cents for a sample package of "Anuric"—the latest discovery of Dr. Pierce. Also send a sample of your water. This will be examined without charge by experi-ent chemists at Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y. When you suffer from backache, frequent or scanty urine, rheumatic pains here or there, or that constant tired, worn-out feeling, it's time to write Dr. Pierce, describe your symptoms and get his medical opinion without charge—absolutely free. This "Anuric" of Doctor Pierce is found to be 37 times more active than lithia,
for it breaks up uric acid in the system
as hot water does sugar.
Simply ask for Dr. Pierce's Anuric
Tablets. There can be no imitation.
Every package of "Anuric" is sure to be Dr. Pierce's. You will find the signature on the package just as you do on Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for blood and stomach.

WORRY, DESPONDENCY.

Kidney Disease is suspected by medical men when patients complain of backache or suffer with frequent urination, disturbance, too frequent, scanty or painful passage. The general symptoms are rheumatic pains or neuralgia, headaches,
dizzy spells, irritability, despondency, weakness and general misery. Worry is frequent cause and sometimes a symptom of kidney disease. Thousands have testified to immediate relief from these symptoms after using Dr. Pierce's "Anuric" Kidney Tablets.

OF GENERAL VON MACKENSEN'S
OFFENSIVE IN DOBRUDJA
APPARENTLY REACHED.

Russians and Rumanians Offer Stubborn Resistance to Advancing Armies—Disagree on Macedonian Operations.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Field Marshal von Mackensen's campaign in Dobrudja has resulted in the capture of one of its principal objectives, the city of Constantza.

The occupation of this special Black sea port and easterly terminus of the railway line to interior Rumania is reported by Berlin today. It announces also that the troops of the central powers have crossed the railway to the east of Marfatlar, 13 miles inland.
On the westerly wing of Von Mackensen's line, his troops are approaching Tchernavoda on the Danube, which is of even greater importance from a military stand than Constantza by reason of the bridge on which the railroad from Constanza crosses the river there.
Petrograd admits the continuation of the Russo-Rumanian retreat in Dobrudja, declaring however, that the Russians and Rumanians are offering stubborn resistance as they fall back.

On the north Teutonic pressure is also being applied in the attempt to crush Rumania between the two jaws of the Teutonic military machine, the success of the operation seems less pronounced.
The Rumanians, with Russian help, apparently are making successful stands in the passes leading from Transylvania to Rumanian territory. In some of these hilly regions, notably in the Trotus, Oituz and Slania valleys, Rumanian forces are reported by Petrograd to have driven General von Falkenhayn's troops slightly backward.

Divergent reports of the results of the fighting in the Cerna river region southeast of Monastir on the Macedonian front come from the opposing camps. Sofia announces successful development of the Bulgarian counter-attack, while a Bulgarian failure to regain important lost ground in the battle for Monastir is reported in censored war office statements.

In the western front along the Somme the French have made a successful push in the vicinity of the Peronne-Bapaume road capturing the spur known as No. 128 northwest of Sailly-Saillies, according to today's Paris bulletin.
Petrograd reports the slackening of the battle in the Narayuvka river region in Galicia, where Berlin and Vienna yesterday announced that an important Teutonic victory had been gained. The repulse of a Teutonic attempt to cross the Bolderka north of Brodsky in the district northeast of Lemberg is claimed.

London announces another attack by a German aeroplane of an English town, following yesterday's raid on Sheerness. Margate, the seaside resort in Kent, 80 miles southeast of London was visited this morning but only slight damage is said to have been done by the German machines. Two persons were slightly injured. The hostile aircraft was pursued by British aeroplanes.

ST. JOHNS CHURCH

HAS NEW PASTOR; SERVICE SUNDAY

Rev. E. N. Kraft, new pastor of St. John's Evangelical church, was installed as pastor on Sunday by Rev. R. R. Fillbrandt, Ph.D., of Zanesville.

The services were impressive and interesting and were in charge of Rev. Mr. Fillbrandt, who had been instructed by the president of the Ohio district of German Evangelical Synod of North America, Rev. J. E.
Bigel of Massillon acted as installing officer and Mr. Oscar Scheidler presided at the organ.

Music for the service was furnished by the church choir and by Mrs. R. R. Fillbrandt of Zanesville, accompanied by Mrs. E. N. Kraft.

Rev. Mr. Kraft delivered an inspiring sermon holding before his congregation three banners, which they should follow.
First, the banner of Christian faith, showing how the Christian faith is changing the world into a garden of God.

Second, the banner of Evangelical loyalty, showing that the Evangelical church stands on this broad principle of "in essential unity, in non-essential liberty" in all things charity. Rev. Mr. Kraft said that many of the great living of all Protestant denominations have stated that it time and again that this principle of the Evangelical church comes nearer to being a common basis for Protestantism to meet on than the principle of any other denomination.

Third, the banner of individual activity. Rev. Mr. Kraft showed his congregation that time and money spent for the church is the best investment. The church means to every member what he puts into it.

Preceding the installation Rev.
Mr. Fillbrandt, who is a warm friend of St. John's congregation and also of Rev. Mr. Kraft, spoke of the right relationship between the pastor and congregation, holding up to the pastor his duties to his congregation, holding up to the pastor his duties to his congregation and urging the congregation to work, to hope and to pray with their pastor.
Rev. Mr. Fillbrandt said that any congregation that has three praying men is a living congregation.

The address was followed by the installation of Rev. E. N. Kraft according to the impressive and beautiful ritual of the Evangelical Synod.
The congregation joined in the Lord's prayer and was dismissed with benediction by Rev. Mr. Fill-brandt. The services concluded with the singing of "Blest Be the Tie that Binds."

The Courts

Justice Jones' Court.

Jos. Sabo and Steve Sabo, not related, were brought into Justice D.
M. Jones court this morning on an affidavit subscribed to by Patrolman Geo. J. Mercer of the B. & O. The men were charged with disorderly conduct, it being alleged that Joseph was the aggressor and that Steve stabbed him with a file. Justice Jones fined the former $10 and the costs and the latter was assessed $5 and costs.

Abutment Completed.

The east abutment to the Manning street bridge has been completed and the contract for the fill for the approach has been let to John Gilmore, of Buckingham street, by the county commissioners. It will be completed by next Monday at which time work will begin on erecting the bridge and it will probably be completed by Saturday, Nov. 4.

Sues for Services.

The case of Lorena Willey against John W. Rowland occupied the attention of the court and jury today in common pleas court. The suit is brought to recover for services rendered the wife of the defendant during her last sickness.

Channel Straightened.

B. C. Patterson of Vanatasburg has nearly completed the straightening of the North Fork of the Licking river just west of the Manning street bridge. The work was begun early in the summer and it has been quite a task. The channel now runs straight with the bridge and eliminates flood danger.

Make Assignment.

Moore & Davis, the well known implement dealers in South Third street made an assignment today to W. M. Sheppard. The assets are named at $3,000 with liabilities of about the same amount.

Assignment.

The farm implement store of Moore & Davis, 37 South Third street, was closed this morning for the purpose of invoice, having been assigned to W. M. Sheppard. It is believed that there is enough stock to pay dollar for dollar on all bills.
Immediate collection of all accounts and notes due the firm will be made by the assignee or may be paid to attorney R. W. Howard. Franklin
National bank bidg.

Damages Suit.

Mrs. Nina D. Moore has brought a suit for damages against Gist Brothers, road contractors, for injuries which she sustained early in the summer in a bridge over the Big Walnut creek west of Columbus.
She alleges in her petition that employes of the contractor came through the bridge and in disregard of her warnings struck an automobile in the bridge with a road building machine, forcing the former to push a loose plank against her and crushing her so that she suffered bodily injuries to the extent of 1,399.

Marriage License.

Harriet G. Gallas, a carpenter, and Miss Fay O. Westcott, both of this city.

MRS. HULSHIZER'S

CONDITION UNCHANGED STILL IN HOSPITAL

The condition of Mrs. W. M. Hulshizer, 109 East Church street, a victim of the early Saturday morning automobile accident in East Broad street, Columbus, which resulted in the death of Robert L. Compton, also of this city, today was reported unchanged.

The body of Mr. Compton was shipped this morning at 8:10 o'clock from Columbus to the home of the deceased in Belva, W. Va. Mrs.
Compton, although suffering from a fractured rib, accompanied the body of her husband to Belva, where funeral services will be held and interment made.

Miss Neva Hulshizer, another member of the party who was in the Hulshizer machine when it turned over, returned to Newark this morning.

Mother's condition is still critical," Miss Hulshizer said, "and it will be three weeks at least before she will be able to leave Grant hospital."

Mr. Hulshizer still is in Columbus at his wife's bedside and expects to remain near his wife until she is out of danger. In speaking of the accident, Miss Hulshizer said:

"I believe the accident was due to our machine being equipped with steel studded tires, which would not hold on the dewy asphalt paving.
When the car started to skid my father, who was driving, was unable to control the machine."

Miss Hulshizer said her father was the only member of the party thrown clear of the machine, when the car turned over. Mr. and Mrs.
Compton, Miss Hulshizer and Mrs.
Hulshizer were all in the car, but Mr. Compton was the only one really under the machine.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No gripping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets.
They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"
now and then—a bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver and are constipated, you'll find quick, sure and only pleasant results from one or two little Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take one or two every night just to keep right. Try them.

CHIROPRACTIC

—YOUR NERVES CONTROL YOUR HEALTH—

The intricate network of nerves which conveys the life to every part of the human body is responsible for the condition of your organs.
These nerves, or health sustainers, are distributed from the spinal column. If through accidents, blows, unnatural growth or curva-ture, the spinal column obstructs or interferes with the free passage of the health-giving currents which pass through these nerves, the organ or part of the body dependent upon the particular nerve so obstructed will become diseased, and remain so until the pressure has been removed.

Chiropactic, by relieving the pressure on the nerves, removes the cause of all health.

400 VOTERS

FAIL TO REGISTER AND LOSE OPPORTUNITY TO VOTE AT FALL ELECTION.

Total of 6,001, More Than 300 Less Than Total Four Years Ago, Qualified to Vote.

The total registration for this city is 6,691, with a chance to increase this from 150 to 200 when those who were absent a distance of fifty miles from the city during registration days and were unable to return in time to register, go before the board of election on Saturday afternoon, Nov. 4, or Monday afternoon, Nov. 6, and secure a permit to register Monday afternoon, Nov. 6, between the hours of 2:30 and 5:30 o'clock.

Even with the added registration the number will fall from 100 to 150 short of the vote registered in 1912, when 7,003 were reported on the registration books. Registrars in different precincts report that many refused absolutely to register. In one precinct the poll books show that 19 Republicans and 11 Democrats remained away and will lose their right of franchise. In another precinct 40 voters failed to register. Members of the board of elections estimate that at least 400 voters over the city failed to exercise their right of franchise. The list includes a number of prominent men who had been opportuned to register but who for some reason or other remained away from the registration booths.

All voters who were out of the city on registration days, and were fifty miles or more from Newark, will have a chance to register on Monday afternoon, Nov. 6, between the hours of 2:30 and 5:30 o'clock. In order to do so however, they must call at the board of election rooms in the city hall building between the hours of 2:30 and 5:30 o'clock on Saturday afternoon, November 4, and secure a permit. Permits will also be issued Monday afternoon, November 6. Following is the total registration by precincts and wards:

NEWARK TESTIMONY

Home Proof, Here, There and Everywhere.

When you see Doan's Kidney Pills recommended in this paper you most always find the recommender a Newark resident. It's the same everywhere—in 3,800 towns in the U. S. Forty thousand people publicly thank Doan's. What other kidney remedy can give this proof of merit, honesty and truth? Home testimony must be true or it could not be published here. Read this Newark recommendation. Then insist on having Doan's. You will know what you are getting.

William H. H. Deenis, 50 German St., Newark, says: "I had such a bad back I couldn't attend to my work. If I tried to bend, a sharp stitch caught me. Nights I couldn't sleep well because of dull pains across my loins. Mornings I couldn't stoop to put my shoes on and my wife often had to assist me to dress. The kidney secretions passed too frequently every night and got me out of bed. The secretions also contained heavy sediment. Doan's Kidney Pills completely cured me." Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that cured Mr. Deenis. Foster-McClellan Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y. 10-23-26

GERMAN DECLARES CANADIAN WHACKED OFF ONE OF HIS FINGERS.

TOLEDO, Oct. 23.—Hans Schmidt, 20 years old, a German sailor, is in a local hospital with one of his fingers cut off and otherwise mutilated, he says, by Canadian soldiers at Port Arthur, Canada.

Schmidt told his story to police last night after having been found wandering in the streets. He said he was advised in Hoboken, N. J., to ship on the Great Lakes. He went to Buffalo, where he was offered employment as a stevedore on the steamer Chellico, which carried the British flag. He understood the destination of the vessel to be Duluth. At Port Arthur, he declared, he attempted to pass a guard of soldiers on shore and was struck down by one with the number "122" on the collar of his uniform. Trying to regain his feet, the soldier's bayonet was flashed and one of the sailor's fingers was severed, he claims. Then, he declares, he was beaten unconscious and did not know where he was until he awoke in Detroit several days later.

Duluth (Minn.) Carpenters' Union has increased wages 7 1-2 cents an hour.

FEW FOLKS HAVE GRAY HAIR NOW

Well-known Local Druggist Says Everybody is Using Old-time Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Hair that loses its color and lustre or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture improved by the addition of other ingredients by asking at any drug store for a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite to impart color and a youthful appearance to the hair. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

IF KIDNEYS ACT BAD TAKE SALTS

Says Backache is a sign you have been eating too much meat, which forms uric acid.

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and loggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels; removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is a life saver for regular meat eaters. It is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink.

EAST CLEVELAND WOMAN WANTS TO VOTE IN THE CITY.

(Associated Press Telegram) Columbus, Oct. 23.—The question of the right of women to vote for municipal officers in East Cleveland, where a new charter has been adopted permitting women to vote for such officers, reached the supreme court today in a suit filed by Sophia Taylor of East Cleveland. She asks that the board of elections and the precinct judges of elections be ordered to permit her to vote. Suffrage leaders are said to be behind the action, as favorable action by the court would be considered of importance throughout the state in regard to the suffrage question.

VOLA-VITA

A Wonderful Hair Grower

Five great elements compose healthy hair—oxygen, nitrogen, carbon, hydrogen, sulphur. When, for any reason, the follicles are starved or deprived of any of these, the hair turns gray or falls out.

VOLA-VITA is a scientific preparation that supplies these elements to the hair roots. Thus, naturally, hair is grown on bald heads, falling hair is stopped, gray hair is restored to its youthful color, dandruff is stopped. VOLA-VITA contains no alcohol, because alcohol, while falsely stimulating, burns out and kills the hair roots.

Vola-Vita is sold and guaranteed by all good druggists and the Vola-Vita Mfg. Co., Chicago, $1.00 a bottle.
